

Deadly Start Pathways with Mater Education

Mater Education is proud to partner with Metro North Hospital and Health Service (MNHHS) and Brisbane North West Trade Training Centre and WestTEC to deliver a dedicated program for school students who identify as Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander, to explore pathways for a career in healthcare.

Qualification

This program will deliver a nationally recognised HLT23215 Certificate II in Health Support Services qualification over six months, and provide students with the skills, knowledge and confidence to work in the health sector. Throughout the program, students will learn:

- Infection control and safety
- First aid and CPR
- Delivering quality healthcare to patients
- Communication in the health industry
- Roles and duties of an assistant in nursing
- Career options within the health industry

Program delivery

The program will be available to commence study in Term one 2021.

Students will be required to attend weekly vocational classes over six months, and must also complete a compulsory workplace visit towards the end of the program, at one of Mater's exceptional hospitals (South Brisbane or Springfield).

Locations

Students may choose to study at one of our five South East Queensland hubs. Contact days will vary according to your choice of campus.

Fees

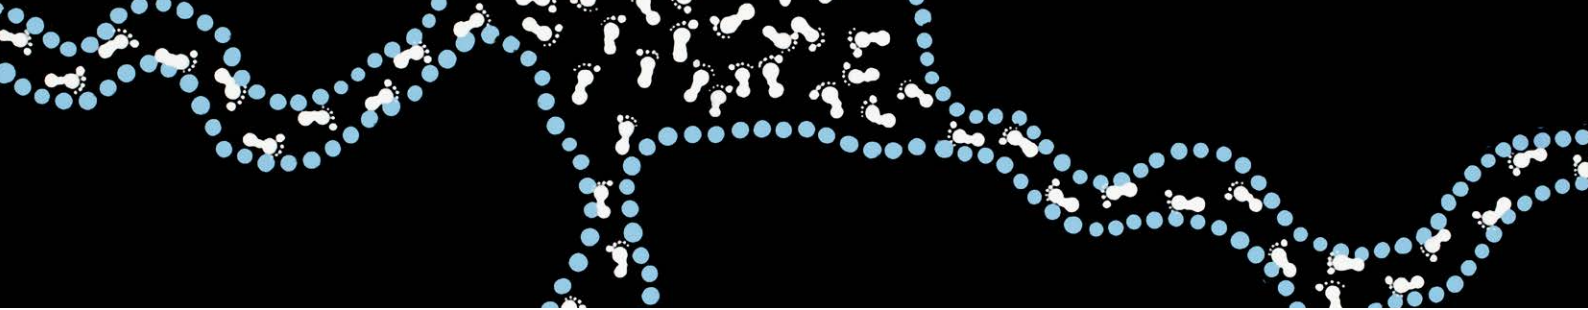

Eligible students are able to access Vocational Education and Training in Schools (VETiS) funding, funded by the Queensland Government's VET Investment Plan.

Students who are not eligible for VETiS funding will be advised of the program cost upon application.

Additional costs may be incurred to meet hospital dress codes during the workplace visit.

Pathways

Students have the option to continue their studies and obtain a Certificate III in Term three 2021 via either:

Deadly Start Traineeship Program

Duration: 15 months

MNHHS offers a range of traineeships for students who have completed the Certificate II program and have a desire to further explore a nursing, dental, allied health, patient support services or health administration career.

Traineeships will be facilitated at the Royal Brisbane and Women's Hospital, The Prince Charles Hospital, Redcliffe Hospital, Caboolture Hospital, and Community and Oral Health facilities following an expression of interest process.

Mater Education Gap Program

Duration: 12 weeks

Students can complete a 12 week gap program to obtain a HLT33115 Certificate III in Health Services Assistance directly through Mater Education – Queensland's only nationally accredited and independent hospital-based RTO.
